Issue 19

This purpose of this issue is only to emphasize our next two big events.

The first event was shared only last week.

It's our first-ever Niche Coin Buy-Back.

As you may recall, stocks reflect partial ownership in a company. If you own 1% of the stock of Amazon, then you can cash-out 1% of the net worth of that company whenever you want. Amazon is valued at over $1.5 trillion, so 1% ownership would mean you have $15 billion!

Stocks are more than just title to profits; it's also title to ownership. Stockholders get to vote on the important decisions that the board of directors of a company make.

When company executives want to take the business in new directions, or they believe massive profits are on the way, they will "buy-back" the stock from current stock owners. If their assumptions prove correct - that their new ideas led to massive profits - then their buy-back will have made them richer.

That's kind of what our event will be like.

Bring all and any of your old UnSecurities and Niche Coins. The Niche Clinic will buy them back. If we do not cash-you-out on the spot, we will add the money you are entitled to into your next contract.

Pay out for your next contract will be in-part or in-full based on your attendance at Niche Night #2, which is Thursday, March 28th.

This is the first time we are sharing the date of this event, so be sure to put this on your calendar.

The moral of this story - and by "story" I mean "issue of our newsletter" - is make sure you attend both events for the maximum amount of money!

The first event is our Niche Coin Buy-Back.
